

VESTIGE

SON VELL

History is just the beginning

Vestige Collection is a project with a story that begins with a meticulous restoration of an exceptional palace in Asturias. A deeply satisfying challenge to tease an ancient building back to its roots, breathe new life into its bones, revive its heart and soul. Now the collection has expanded to include an array of historically significant properties. Using high-quality architectural restoration methods, we revamp culturally interesting buildings, from 18th-century castles to early 20th-century modernist constructions. We bring each property back to life by curating a modernisation programme, undertaken with due reverence, to allow you to live the experience of each building's timeless beauty and enduring history. Vestige Collection includes luxury hotels, private estates and events venues.

Menorca

Menorca, the easternmost Balearic island, is the mellower cousin of Mallorca and Ibiza, with dreamy sun-splashed shores of white and golden sand, charming whitewashed villages and rolling hills and fields with an air of rural bliss. Its second city, Cuitadella, is attractive with a picturesque port, a maze-like old quarter, grand honey-hued buildings and a set of Baroque and Gothic churches. The entire island was declared a UNESCO Biosphere Reserve in 1993; the conservation of its heritage and landscapes not only limits excessive development but also underpins a fierce commitment to safeguarding the island's wild environment and rich local traditions. Wonder at the ancient Talayotic monuments, take to the sea for some high-adrenaline watersports or simply dream away your days on ravishing beaches. Menorca's charms are delightfully alluring and island life will soon cast you under its spell.

Son Vell: a symbol of Menorcan elegance and beauty

Ensnconced in rippling countryside close to the sparkling coast, yet only 20-minutes from historic Ciutadella, Son Vell rises from the land as a symbol of Menorcan elegance and beauty. The original 18th-century Manor House resides in quiet harmony alongside a series of traditional agricultural buildings fanning out across the estate. Having undergone a meticulous restoration, the hotel now comprises a clutch of luxurious suites in both the main house and the old barns. On the fringe of the estate's 180 hectares are fertile fields and a working farm as well as landscaped gardens, citrus trees, olive groves and an organic vegetable garden. You're a ten-minute walk from palm-fringed Cala Son Vell and the centuries-old Camí de Cavalls borders the estate; this ancient route strung along the coastline delivers you to hidden beaches, pine-scented forests and rocky cliff-faces.

Restoration

The meticulous and delicate restoration process undertaken at Son Vell has preserved the traditional marés sandstone, original wood, traditional lime and crafted clay features of the property. Each property in our collection benefits from a sympathetic modernisation programme, undertaken with due reverence, as we focus on the unique identity of the building. Our approach puts profit aside in order to ensure a sensitive restoration that breathes new life into each project.

Location

A stunning location within a short stroll of some of the island's most ravishing beaches. Easy access to the Camí de Cavalls for hiking, horseback-riding and mountain-biking along the entire coast, and only 20-minutes to the picturesque port city of Ciutadella.

Rooms & Suites

The hotel comprises 34 spacious rooms and suites positioned in an abundant seven hectare enclave within the estate. At every turn and hidden corner you'll happen across glorious gardens bursting with flowers, native plants, trees and groves. Rooms are located within the main house, in renovated old barns and outbuildings, many with access to a private terrace or garden space. Each luminous room retains its individual charm with comfortable living areas, spoiling bedrooms and bathrooms, antique furniture and contemporary art and sculptures. Architecturally reminiscent of the Venetian-style, the main manor house brings to mind an elegant home of the nobility or 'Casas del Signore'.
